Ruth Whitaker

as a child in south Florida. Her mother was always her encouragement and before her death in Dec. of 2011 insisted that Ruth follow her dream to take painting classes. Ruth has been a member of the NCAA (Newnan Coweta County Art Association) for seven years. She has shown in the NCAA Juried Art Show at The Center for Performing Arts in Newnan, Ga for the last six years. Ruth participated in the Old Town Sharpsburg Art Show in October of 2015 and again in April of 2017. She hangs her works at Christy's Diner, the Carnegie Building, Dr. Burson's office, Southern Arc Dance Studio, all here in Newnan, Ga, and the Peachtree City Library in Peachtree City, Ga. She has participated at the NCAA Christmas Market at the Newnan Fairgrounds the past six years. Ruth's mediums are acrylic and pastel painting. She is grateful to God for the unexpected gift and joy of painting. For over 25 years Ruth Whitaker has resided with her husband Don in Newnan, Ga.

Ruth Whitaker has been taking painting classes from noted artist Kay Stanley and drawing classes from well-known artist Martin Pate for the last seven years. Also for the last two years Ruth has been following celebrated artist Karen Margulis, through her blog and assorted workshops. Before that she had limited exposure to the art world except for one art class her senior year in High School and personal sketching. She also had art lessons from her mother with school chalk in the carport

Letter From the President

As I approach the passing of the torch as President to Margo Merrifield, I have to take a moment and look back over the past two years and how quickly the time has flown by!! Being President has been a wonderful learning experience - sometimes quite challenging and often very rewarding.

Thank you to spectacular boards over the past two years and all the encouragement from members of the organization. Thursday will be the last general meeting led by me. Bitter sweet but now it is my turn to look on to watch up and coming board members taking the lead. You are all family to me - each and every member - and I know we can do great things in the future.

DID YOU KNOW?...

 Leonardo da Vinci was a vegetarian and animal rights activist, he would buy caged birds and set them free. Leonardo left fewer than 30 paintings, and these aren't even all finished; however, he also left hundreds of drawings, sketches, and pages of notes

 Marcel Duchamp created art from everyday objects. He made about twenty of these pieces; but, by far the most famous example is a work called Fountain, which is nothing more than a urinal he purchased. When it came time to display his creation at an art show, the board in charge of the exhibit had a fierce debate and eventually chose to hide the display from view, presumably in the washroom.

 Tim Knowles, a British artist, attaches pens to trees and lets the wind do the rest of the work. They produce some interesting results, too.

 Salvador Dali believed he was his dead brother's reincarnation. There is also a portrait or a silhouette of Dali in every one of his paintings. He produced over 1500 paintings, many of them regarded as masterpieces, and pretty much single handedly kept the mainstream surrealist movement alive.

 Andy Warhol, at the end of every month, would seal a box and add a date to it to create "time capsules." Some of those box items might include objects such as a mummified foot, Caroline Kennedy's birthday cake, a 17th-century German book on wrestling and drawings of 1950s icons such as Jean Harlow's dress or Clark Gable's boots. -

NARNIA (Based on "The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe" by C. S. Lewis

"NARNIA", an immersive dramatization based on "The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe," tells of four English school children in the time of World War II who stumble upon a wardrobe which they discover to be a portal into a magical kingdom called Narnia. Narnia is a kingdom that is held in the power of the White Witch whose evil spell has frozen the land so that it is "always winter -- and never Christmas." On the journey, the children are embraced by mystical animals and the good Narnians who resist the Witch's evil and await the return of Aslan -- the Great Lion, who is their rightful ruler.

A CHRISTMAS STORY

By Philip Grecian, based on the motion picture A Christmas Story, written by Jean Shepherd, Leigh Brown, and Bob Clark, and on the book In God We Trust, All Others Pay Cash by Jean Shepherd

Humorist Jean Shepherd's memoir of growing up in the Midwest in the 1940s follows 9-year-old Ralphie Parker in his quest to get a genuine Red Ryder BB gun under the tree for Christmas. Ralphie pleads his case before his mother, his teacher and even Santa Claus himself, at Higbee's Department Store. The consistent response: "You'll shoot your eye out!" All the elements from the beloved motion picture are here, including the family's temperamental exploding furnace; the boys' experiment with a wet tongue on a cold lamppost; the Little Orphan Annie decoder pin; Ralphie's father winning a lamp shaped like a woman's leg in a net stocking; Ralphie's fantasy scenarios and more!
